

Spanish Homes in the Sun Customer Testimonial – Valerie Chetty

“This all started as a dream which eventually became a reality”

Relocating abroad to Spain was something that had been on my mind for a number of years. This idea came about from my love of the TV show ‘A Place in the Sun’ and It brought me great joy, particularly to see people happy and excited to relocate abroad to the hot sunny Spanish weather and this all started off as a dream which eventually became a reality.

In 2017, I attended the ‘A Place in the Sun Live’ Exhibition at London Olympia and this was a very helpful event, enabling me to obtain a great deal of information in relation to the buying process and the legalities of relocating abroad.

In February of 2019, I decided to book a trip out to Spain for some property viewings, however I was let down by that particular agent; some might call the trip a failure, but I'd call it a blessing and let me explain why!

Despite the upset and frustration of being let down, I reached out to Sun Lawyers, a local firm of English-speaking Spanish Lawyers based in the Costa Blanca, for some advice and guidance given my predicament, they then put me in contact with Alan Dennett of Spanish Homes in the Sun and Alan subsequently reassured me that he and his team would restart my property hunting process but not until they had fully understood my preferred locations and my specific property requirements.

After much contemplation and deliberation in April 2019 I decided to take a leap of faith to visit Spain again to view properties, only this time I was prepared and forearmed as I had been able to view online a selection of suitable and recommended properties shared by the Spanish Homes in the Sun Team and from which I was able to short list my favourites to view. Alan & Pauline and their team were nothing short of brilliant, the property viewings were very well organised and any questions I had were answered there and then. I would like to thank them for all their help and support, and I would highly recommend Spanish Homes in the Sun to anyone who is seriously looking to relocate abroad or looking to buy a holiday home in Spain.

I would like to add their help did not just stop at having helped me to find my "Forever Home" as their Team were also able to offer advice and guidance when it came to the question of moving my furniture and belongings over to Spain. Here again they were able to connect me with another of their Business Partners, PSS International Removals who are specialists in their field and who regularly assist clients with International Removals & Storage requirements. This proved a valuable connection as the PSS Team provided all the necessary expertise and facilities which ensured I was able to have my furniture & personal belongings safely collected and securely shipped over and delivered directly to the door of my new home in the Costa Blanca, home from home to Spain and easily done!

Thanks again to Alan & Pauline & the rest of the Spanish Homes in the Sun Team who definitely made the whole process very streamlined, I've not only relocated abroad but I've also gained very good friends in the process, I couldn't be any happier! - Valerie Chetty
